

Heather Manning

Vice President, EXLab
Cox Enterprises

Heather Purvis Manning joined CEI as the new vice president of business operations reporting to Jill Campbell, effective June 1, 2020. In this role, Heather manages major long-term, cross-divisional programs between internal business groups. This includes everything from strategic planning to dashboard management to progress updates. She will also take up a lead role on current EXLab initiatives, and any changes that continue arise out of the COVID19 crisis.

Prior to joining CEI, Heather spent more than 10 years with Cox Communications. She held many roles during her time at CCI, including her most recent as vice president of business operations for Cox Media. There she was responsible for all financial support activities, sales compensation and inventory and pricing management. Prior to that role, she was the director of business operations for Supply Chain and Product Management, where she provided financial support and insight for the execution of strategic initiatives like Harmony, Pano WiFi, Homelife, Network 2.0 and Usage Based Billing. Heather also played an integral role in the launch and national rollout of Homelife, CCI's home security and home automation product. Prior to joining Cox, Heather worked for Protiviti, a global management consulting firm, where she conducted and participated in audit and loss prevention client engagements.

Heather received a bachelor's degree in Finance from the University of Georgia before going on to earn her Master of Business Administration from Emory University. When Heather isn't busy at work, you can usually find her traveling the world, long-distance running or spending time with her husband Chris and two daughters, Elin (4yo) and Parker (1yo.)