

Kimberly Jones
Managing Director, Talent Strategy and People Experience Leader

Ms. Kimberly Jones originally joined PwC over 25 years ago as an assurance (audit) associate. Since her transition into the Human Capital team, she has served in many roles ranging from recruiter to diversity leader to global project leader. She now leads the Talent Strategy and People Experience Center of Expertise. In this role, she is focused on enhancing the day-to-day People experience across the PwC US/Mexico firm for its 55,000 partners and employees. She leads various firmwide initiatives in areas including flexibility, diversity and inclusion, and talent strategy.

PricewaterhouseCoopers is a multinational professional services network of firms, operating as partnerships under the PwC brand. PwC ranks as the second-largest professional services network in the world and operates in 156 countries, 742 locations, and with a team of over 295,000 people.